

Written Deputy Examination

The Ada County Sheriff's Office currently uses the National Criminal Justice Officer Selection Inventory (NCJOSI²) exam for testing deputy applicants.

The NCJOSI² is a state-of-the-art pre-employment examination used to select the most qualified entry-level criminal justice officers. It measures basic cognitive abilities and counterproductive workplace behaviors, or integrity. Cognitive ability is a powerful predictor of job performance, and integrity scales ensure that applicants possess the personal characteristics and values that are so critical in a public safety profession.
